

Teresa Riskowski was born and raised in Omaha, NE. She is a 43-year-old single mother of five children, who is currently pursuing a career in information technology. After completing her associates degree in database/web programming she plans on continuing her education in creative writing by attending night school. She is looking forward to finally being able to enter the workforce with a strong educational background to provide a quality lifestyle for her family. Teresa loves to read, do crafts with her children and go horseback riding.